31 October – 2 November 2019 • Singapore.

Asia Derma, the Asia Pacific Dermatology and Aesthetic Conference & Exhibition second annual edition, will take place in Singapore on Thursday 31 October to Saturday 2 November 2019.

Launched in 2018, Asia Derma is an event combining a trade exhibition and a scientific conference on both medical and aesthetic dermatology. It replicates the concept of the successful and famous Dubai Derma, focusing obviously on the Asia-Pacific region.

In 2018 the Scientific Conference welcomed 52 speakers from 19 different countries who delivered 105 lectures. The programme was prepared by 15 Scientific Committee members, all experts in dermatology from Asia-Pacific and across the globe. The conference was accredited 12 CME points from several APAC medical societies.

The 2019 Scientific Conference theme announced by Professor Goh is 'Toward evidence-based medicine' and will provide opportunities for thoughtful dialogues and debates, skills development, keynote presentations and networking for dermatologists and the allied staff.

The Trade Exhibition will feature 90 European and Asian brands, including Sesderma, Eunsung, Zimmer, Dermedic, Zero Gravity, Corvico, who will present skincare and anti-ageing products, dermatology devices, fillers, dermaceuticals, etc.

Asia Derma is a unique platform gathering practitioners, end-users and dealers from the Asia-Pacific Dermatology Community to learn about new developments and forge business partnerships.
